I) Leading Interventional Radiologist from Mumbai on improvement in Microcirculation

I am an Interventional Radiologist and treat diabetic patients with blocked arteries of the leg. These patients have poor temperature regulation, loss of pain sensation and often get injuries to the foot. These wounds do not heal easily and get infected, develops into ulcers and gangrene. As the gangrene progresses, amputation is the only option . I strongly recommend Thermaissance socks which are thick , safeguarding from injuries. It has temperature control and that the fabric is impregnated with anti-bacterial/ anti-fungal, hence, these socks are most suitable for all diabetic patient . We carried out a small study on diabetic patients and confirmed that after wearing these socks, the blood flow and oxygen supply to the foot improved.

Personally, during long distance running or exercise, these socks are most comfortable , the sweat is absorbed and feet do not ache following the run.

II) Director & Colonel (Retd), Indian Mountaineering Foundation

A recce was done by the Indian Mountaineering Foundation mountaineering expedition team at Ladakh region, upto 5050 m altitude and -10°C of cold windy weather. Material of the clothing for Thermaissance Level I and Level II was found good, light weight and comfortable to wear. For the Balaclava, no irritation was felt and temperature control was good. For socks, no irritation was felt after wearing it for a long period.

III) Headquarters, 108 Mountain Brigade

The quality of the fabric is good with effective sweat absorption. The t-shirts and lowers are fitting well as per the earmarked sizes. The designing and finish of the clothes are remarkable. The clothes have proved to be easy to wash with fast colors, which do not fade after repeated washing. The material dries up relatively quickly and does not require any special care/ treatment for washing. With their fast color, high quality fabric and elasticity, the clothing has proved to be durable and even after rigorous use, the material still look good as new. The clothing is good

IV) Second Lieutenant, U.S. Military

Thermaissance socks are outstanding for military use. During long hot trainings/rucks in Georgia summers (104°F heat and 95%v humidity), my feet were the only part dry on my body. I have tried many brands of socks and these are by far the best. After numerous washes and tough use, they retain their form and function remarkably well. A must-have for any service member looking for reliable and high performance gear. Five stars!

V) MotoGP Racer from Spain

Thermaissance undershirt maintained stable body temperature in extreme hot conditions, enhancing race performance.
